

Email

Practise Questions:

1. Draft an email to the admissions office inquiring about the application process for scholarships.
2. Compose an email to the library asking for the renewal of a borrowed book that is nearing its due date.
3. Write an email to a company representative seeking information about internship opportunities.
4. Write an email to your professor requesting an extension for a project deadline due to unforeseen circumstances.
5. Draft an email to the head of your department requesting a letter of recommendation for a summer internship.
6. Compose an email to a company's HR team following up on an internship application you submitted two weeks ago.
7. Compose an email to a professor requesting clarification on a lecture topic you didn't understand.
8. Draft an email to the head of a student organization asking for collaboration on a campus event.
9. Compose an email to a guest speaker inviting them to deliver a talk at a college seminar.
10. Compose an email to the college administration requesting a fee payment deadline extension due to financial difficulties.

Email Header

1. From (Sender's Address): The sender's email address (e.g., sender@example.com).
2. To (Recipient's Address): The primary recipient's email address (e.g., recipient@example.com).
3. CC (Carbon Copy): Email addresses of secondary recipients who need the information but are not directly addressed (e.g., manager@example.com).
4. BCC (Blind Carbon Copy): Email addresses of hidden recipients who should receive the email without others knowing (e.g., director@example.com).
5. Date and Time: Automatically included by the email client.

Email Subject Line

1. Be Clear and Concise: Clearly state the purpose of the email (e.g., "Meeting Agenda for January 15"). Aim for 6–10 words to convey the message effectively.
2. Use action oriented language (Submit feedback by Friday)
3. Add Specific Details: Include dates, names, or reference numbers for clarity (e.g., "Invoice #12345: Payment Reminder").
4. Don't Mislead: Never use clickbait or misleading subject lines that don't align with the email content.
5. Avoid All Caps or Excessive Punctuation: Example: "URGENT!!!" or "READ THIS NOW!!!!" – this comes off as spammy or aggressive.
6. Avoid Overly Long Subject Lines: Don't exceed 50–60 characters; longer subject lines may get cut off, especially on mobile devices.
7. Don't Use Unnecessary Sensationalism: Phrases like "Don't Miss This!" or "Once in a Lifetime Offer!" are better suited for marketing emails, not professional communication.
8. Dont leave it blank

Email Body

a. Salutation

- Start with a greeting:

Formal: "Dear [Recipient's Name/Title],"

b. Opening Line

- State the purpose of the email or provide context:

Example: "I hope this email finds you well. I am writing to inform you about the recent developments in our project."

c. Main Content

- Provide detailed information in a clear and organized way:
- Use paragraphs for different points.
- Include bullet points or numbered lists for multiple items.
- Mention deadlines, action items, or specific requests.

d. Closing Line

- Summarize or state the next steps:

Example: "Please let me know if you require any further details. I look forward to your feedback."

Closing statements:

- Thank you for your time and consideration.
- I appreciate your assistance on this matter.
- Thank you for your continued support.
- I value your feedback and insights.
- Let me know if I can assist further.

General closing:

1. Best regards

2. Kind regards

3. Sincerely

4. Yours sincerely

5. Yours faithfully (useful when addressing someone without a specific name)

6. Warm regards

7. With gratitude

8. Respectfully

Signature Block

- Leave double line space for signature
- Include name and professional details
- Position/Title
- Institutional Address
- Contact Information

Enclosure:

- Provide the list of attachments in an orderly and numbered manner
- Mention key/password for the attached document if necessary
- Name the attachments clearly
- Mention the number of attachments in the mail.